THREAT TO ABATE ROADHOUSE

Citizens Say Country Inn Is a Menace to the City's Morals: Young Girls Enticed to Enter

The old Country Inn is carrying on its questionable traffic again, and is becoming a nuisance in the scheme of life of the good people out San Pablo way, and is a stench in their nostrils, according to reports brought to the Record Herald by more than one reputable person.

It is a common, an almost nightly incident, and routine, for the Country Inn to be visited by men and women whose missions are questioned, and whose carryings-on are scandalous and offensive, so this paper is informed.

The Country Inn long has been in bad repute in Richmond.

It is regarded as beyond the pale, morally, and is without the jurisdiction of the police of this city.

But it is close enough to the municipal lines to make its transgressions and misdeeds a defiant challenge to the men and women who live in decent environs and engage in rearing girls and boys to maturity.

Every Night Revels

It is charged that almost every night a long chain of automobiles laden with men and women, drive up to the door, disappear within its dark and devious recesses and there conduct shameless and high handed revels: yea, that they cut such capers before High Heaven as doth make the angels weep.

Little Girl Sobs Story

An alleged case in point: A citizen of the community, a hard working man, states that one night recently he passed the place at 2:30 in the morning, in the course of his duty, and was attracted by the smothered sobs coming from an auto that had been parked at the place. Upon investigation, he discovered a little fourteen-year-old girl, who was blue with cold and shivering from fear and distress, and who said her parents were in the joint, and that she had been waiting alone there an hour.

Repassing the place an hour later, this same citizen saw a man approach the auto where the little girl sat, and overheard the stranger tell the child a story that ran thus:

"Come on inside, little girl. It is nice and warm and pleasant in there. There is music and fun and dancing, and you can have a good time. Do not sit here in the cold. Come with me; dearie."

The Richmond man said to the stranger with the sugared story: "Who are you? Are you related to this little girl?"

BOYS' NIGHT IS FILLED WITH JOY: McKINLEY LODGE HOSTS

Boys' Night as conceived and carried out by the members of McKinley Lodge No. 347, Free and Accepted Masons at the Masonic Temple last night, is to be reckoned one of the really noteworthy efforts towards civic development and human progress of the spring season in Richmond.

One hundred and fifty bright, healthy youngsters. Muscular young chaps with cheeks aglow and eyes sparkling. Ready to sing or wrestle or eat ice cream or hear a lecture or run a foot race or do anything that clean manly boys like were the guests of the members of the lodge.

Worshipful Master Arba Jones welcomed the lads and briefly outlined the hopes and purposes of the lodge insofar as it touches the lives of the youth of the city.

Percy Sanford took charge as master of ceremonies following Jones' speech, and gave a helpful talk to the boys. He emphasized the necessity of the boys being encouraged by example of their elders to get the right concept of life and to develop rational standards.

Walter Meade, popular Y secretary, lead the gang in community singing, going the gamut of harmony from America to "Pack up your troubles in your old kit pack, and smile, smile, smile."

A short and breezy talk from the angle of the Hi Y boys was given by Lawrence Wright, president of that club, and Earl Rossen, another Hi Y boy, showed that his head is designed for purposes other than a hat rack.

The manly art of wrestling was well demonstrated in two six-minute bouts carried through to falls, and one exhibition bout. In the first bout Fred Gardella won from L. Southcott, scoring two falls. In the second bout, Joe Jasven won the first fall from W. O. Hunt. The remainder of the period was a deadlock.

The exhibition was by Al Hall and J. Deeming.

M. Jasven was referee.

Interesting stereopticon views of China and of the recent Hi Y convention at San Jose were given by C. W. Lockwood, of Concord, county secretary, Y. M. C. A.

Announcement was made of the program for the boys' camp to be held at Clear Lake the latter part of June.

There were loads and loads of ice cream and cakes, and every boy and grown up ate until his mind changed.

"Boys' Night was a great night at McKinley lodge.

Funeral Held For County Treasurer's Wife at Martinez

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice E. Baker, wife of County Treasurer J. Rio Baker, were held in Martinez yesterday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, from the family residence, in Escobar street. The services were conducted by Rev. N. F. Sanderson.

Mrs. Baker had been in ill health for sometime, and her death occurred at the county seat Thursday night.

Appling Body Escorted by Conductors

Elmer P. Appling never regained consciousness after being knocked from his train by a switch stand at Bay Point Friday.

He was lifted tenderly aboard a train by friends of his who had railroaded with him for fifteen years; surgeons at Pittsburg were advised of the accident and everything possible done to save Appling's life, but he really died almost instantaneously.

"I had known him for a long time, and had railroaded with him for many years. He was a fine man. We did everything we could for him. It was no use," said R. J. Breton, who knows the railroad game from spotting gondolas at the right chute to sealing a manifest of perishables.

The funeral of Appling will be held at Modesto at 10 o'clock Monday morning. The remains were shipped at 4:40 Saturday afternoon, being escorted by Martin J. Gordon, secretary of the Richmond branch O. R. C., and other members of that fraternity.

Mrs. Mabel Appling, the widow, will go down by automobile today. She was too ill to leave yesterday. She will be accompanied by relatives from San Francisco and other points.

HI GIRLS' FIELD DAY BROUGHT MANY EVENTS

Yesterday was field day with the girl students of the Richmond high school, and the young ladies had a very merry and exciting time.

The afternoon was devoted to different events such as running, throwing the basketball for distance, potato race, relay race, basketball game and baseball game.

The different classes were contenders and the day's contests ended with the following point scores: Juniors 35; Two-nines 19; Seniors 12; One-nines 10 and Sophomores 6.

At 6 o'clock the young ladies enjoyed a banquet, and in the first part of the evening there were a number of events in the asembly hall, after which they repaired to the gym where the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

The music for the dancing was furnished by a girls orchestra, which is something new in the school.

Man Arrested Here Held to Answer On Burglary Charge

Gordon A. Brown, arested recently in Richmond and charged with burglarizing the Crockett high school of athletic and school equipment, was held to answer to the Superior Court by Justice of the Peace Ray Standish of Crockett Saturday. His bail was fixed at $1000 in lieu of which he was remanded to the county jail.

Brown was arrested by Officer Messneger, and at the time of his arrest had a quantity of baseballs and bats.

CANNERRIES ARE COMING TO THIS PORT SAYS BOOSTER

"Richmond, watch your step," said Secretary W. J. Wallace, of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, upon his return from Sacramento last night after attending conferences of the California Development Board, the California Industries Association and meetings of representatives of the Chambers of Commerce and commercial secretaries of the state.

"Richmond as the largest and leading city of Contra Costa county has got to set an example to the other municipalities of the county," Wallace continued.

This port occupies a place of unapproachable vantage, being at the mouth of two navigable streams, the Sacramento and the San Joaquin rivers, and as such affording a great opportunity for great canning interests, Wallace suggests.

The two rivers mentioned traverse the World's Bread Basket, and upon their waters the wealth of an empire surpassing the domains of Rameses may be shipped to port side here. And here is where the canneries are looking to for sites for their big plants.

This thought and theory gained impetus in Wallace's mind after listening to the talk on the subject "Quick Transportation" as it affects the marketing of agricultural products grown along navigable streams by G. Harold Powell, general manager of the California Fruit Growers' Exchange.

That the vineyards and orchards of the two valleys ought to pour their products into this port and will when encouraged by canneries was the conclusion reached by Wallace and brought back to Richmond.

It is up to Richmond to hasten the advent of the canners. They are coming "eventually—why not now?"

At the Sacramento conferences there were about 900 representatives, of whom 150 went each from San Francisco and Los Angeles, the other six hundred coming from all parts of California.

Pythians Had A Great Welcome Home Reception

Pythian Castle last night was the scene of the much heralded welcome home reception accorded the delegates from the grand lodge at Santa Rosa, and more particularly honoring Mrs. Belle Richards, elected grand guard of the Pythian sisters.

A welcome address was made by Aubrey Wilson, and the place was filled with loyal members of Richmond Lodge No. 13, Knights of Pythias, and Pythian Sisters from Contra Costa Temple and Richmond Temple.

An elaborate program of musical and dance numbers was carried out faultlessly, and after the program, a banquet was served. Dancing concluded the evening.

Miss Jeannine Stoddard today is recovering from the effects of tonsillectomy, recently performed.

Calm Put Kites on the Blink and Kids Were Blue

It takes a dead calm to take the wind out o' the sails of the Y. M. C. A.

Saturday afternoon the air was as still as the surface of a mountain pool in late August.

The big field at First and Bissell presented a picture of pastoral peacefulness that could not be simulated. And thereby hangs a tale.

Boys of Richmond had been busy building kites and studying altitudes and air currents and air pressure, and dips and drops and spins and a lot of lore than aviators know and talk about just as boys discuss stone bruises and doughnuts and mental arithmetic.

And lo, there was no air stirring, and how can a kite fly unless there be atmosphere activity? What kite, however ambitious, may pick up its frame and tail, 'n everything and go cavorting like a mad hare on the wings of a tempest when the tempest moves house and goes a-calling on Neptune and flirts with Mars and Jupitor away away?

You answer me that question.

Can it be done?

Naw.

Well, there were a lot of heavy-hearted kids at Y athletic field.

O yes, of course they smiled and put on brave fronts, and tried to make believe they were not sick in spirit and heavy at heart. But they were only foolin' and they didn't even fool themselves.

But a wind that's truant one Saturday may be decent and tractable another day, and so next Saturday morning at 9 o'clock there is going to be another attempt made, and if the wanton wind will come back to Richmond at that time, there'll be a bunch of happy, kite-flying kids.

Thassa fact.

EASTERN STARS WILL DANCE.

Miramar Chapter O. E. S. will hold a dance on Saturday evening at East Shore Park. The arrangements are being got is shape by a committee appointed for that purpose.

13-YEAR OLD SCHOOL GIRL HAS MARRIAGE ANNULLED

Married and divorced at thirteen is the unusual experience of little Helen Suchowaski, a pupil in the elementary school at Tormey.

The little girl was married to Harry Gianini on a license obtained in Mendocino county, and it was at Ukiah that Judge Grant of the superior court issued a decree of annulment.

The couple eloped several months ago to the Northern county and there secured a marriage license. Her parents were hard upon the trail of the elopers, and tore the child-bride from the arms of her husband and took her home again.

Annulment proceedings immediately were instituted with the result as stated.

The child will graduate from the Tormey school at the spring semester.

OFFICIAL PAPER CITY OF RICHMOND

THINKOGRAPHS by F. J. HULANISKI

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS.

Love tangles and indiscretions continue to fill up the columns of the papers, and nearly all with the same sad ending, sometimes for both the man and the woman but always for the woman. Whether there is more of that sort of thing going on nowadays or whether it gets more publicity in the papers, is hard to guess, but it is probably a little of both. A particularly sad case ended up in San Francisco yesterday, as noted in the papers last night, wherein another broken-winged bird ended her ill-directed flight. It was the old, old story of an unfaithful lover and a foolish girl: the one without principle, the other craving the glow of the uncertain and the glitter of questionable gaiety. Will the poor creatures never learn the folly of trying to walk upon the shadows of stars in the dangerous waters? Can they not understand that only rocks that bruise, and cruel, wounding thorns are found along the deceptive road so many unfortunates are following? Every time we read of such a tragedy we wonder if the home life has not been partly to blame. Did the mother carefully guard the child God left under the wing of her care? Was there lax discipline, dearth of advice, or foolish neglect? We believe in progress in most things, and like to think of ever going ahead and carrying the flag of hope to a better day. As the rose has evoluted from a tiny wild flower of the prairie to the American Beauty of our modern gardens, so can and so must the ways of the world improve with the rolling on of time; but we should not leave the old-fashioned home behind; we need its influence with with every forward step. The circle around the fireside, the family companionship, the advice of a noble, thoughtful mother—these are forces of light that sweep back the shadows and make this old world sweeter and better.

And speaking of things moral reminds us of what a Richmond friend told us a few days ago. His duties take him out nearly all night, and passing a roadhouse adjacent to thic city at half past two in the morning he noticed a little girl about fourteen years old sitting in an automobile and crying. Our friend stopped and asked her what was the matter, and she replied that she was very cold, and her folks had been in the roadhouse for a long time. Half an hour later, on his return trip he saw a man come out of the house and engage the girl in conversation, urging her to go with him into the brothel.

The rest of this story you will find on the front page in the local matter.

We earnestly wish this Sabbath morning that we could say there were no such men and women in the world, but there always have been and probably there always will be. But what kind of a man can it be that will so debase his honor and his manhood as to assist in the downfall into sure and certain hell of his fellow men, and of women, and the debauchery of little girls, all for a few dollars of dirty money? Why is it that he would not rather go to work and do something honest and upright, and be able to look the world and the people in the face? Why is he dishonest, dishonorable, degenerate and criminal? Is he partially insane, or is it just the devil and him? Some day the father of some little girl will go there and kill somebody, and people will say he did just right. It is because of such things, such sorrowful happenings and crimes, that this department continually preaches the Fatherhood of God, and the Brotherhood of Man, and upholds the churches, temperance and all that makes toward good instead of evil, and we have no doubt but what the ministers and good people of Richmond this fine Sunday will pray for God's help to stop such wrongs and to make the wrongdoers see that only integrity and decency can possibly bring any rewards in this world worth having, and that wrong brings nothing in the end but sorrow, degregation and heartache.

At the little church at San Pablo, half a mile the other side of the editorial 2x4 ranch, there is a bell that rings out for services, Sundays and weekdays, and often very early in the morning, just as we are getting up to feed the chickens and the sun is getting up to help feed us all, and it makes a sweet music, clear and melodious and suggestive of prayer and other things Chirstlike. Most of the churches nowadays have done away with their bells, and we miss their sound and their calling of the people to the house of worship. There is something nice about the ringing of a church bell, and reminds one of the picture of "La Angeles," where the peasant man and woman in the field garnering sweeen peas at their work and bow their heads at the ringing of the bell. This wicked old scribe does not attend church very often, but when he does he likes a little old country church, with no stained glass windows, no plush carpet on the floor and with a bell in a steeple, where common folk mingle their spirits with that of Christ, who was also common. We have been in many swell churches in the big cities, from New York to San Francisco, where thousands of dollars per year per patron was paid for pew rent, and the congregation looked like a grand opera gathering, but always had doubts about God being there at all, although he might have been. There would be ushers in frock coast and the bald-headed old aristocrats in the high-backed pews did not look like Christians, thought they might have been—if they were their appearances were against them as a matter of circumstantial evidence. They looked more like bondholders, coupon-clippers and profiteers than followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene. We never saw a fisherman, like the apostles were, in any such gathering, unless fishers for suckers can be counted in that category, which is doubtful. We never prayed any while in such a church, but just rubbered, as the environments were not condusive to a desire to pray, unless it might have been for the Lord to have mercy upon those fat-headed old sinners who thought their fine raiment, diamond pins and red noses were signs of Christianity.

It is different out here in the bounteous West and in Richmond. Our clergymen believe that a poor man has a soul, as well as a rich man, and they are doing a good work in the Lord's vineyard, which might well be emulated by some of the ministers of the swell eastern churches, who haven't time to bother with a poor man or whether he has a soul or not, as there is nothing in it in the way of pew rent.

One scientist claims to know that the human soul weighs less than four ounces. We do not know much about science, and could weigh hay better than souls, but doubt if some of them we have run across in the big edifices in New York and elsewhere weigh any more than a dust spot in the sunlight. But we know a lot of cowboys, miners, and all-round westeners, including hundreds of fine men and women in Richmond, workers and in all walks of life, who, while sporting no dress suit or plug hat, have souls in them that weigh a ton apiece. Yes, sir—a ton, and not an ounce less! Any maybe it is two tons!

And it is to such people that these Sunday Morning Chats are fired at, and it is a pleasure to write for such a people to read. We hope that as Richmond keeps on growing, until Alameda, Oakland, Berkeley and Richmond are all one great big metropolis, as will be in the not very distant future, that while we all grow and prosper, and many get rich, we will never cease to be just plain common people like Christ was, and never get cramped in our ideas of Christianity, or contract short weight of the soul.

Pretty Girls and Lots of 'em Top Vaudeville Bill

Pretty girls will feature the Sunday vaudeville bill at the Richmond T. & D. Theater it is indicated by the program anounced by Manager Dan Reardon. Weaton and Marion will head the bill in novel dance specialties, song numbers. Pretty costumes and gracefulness and neatness will feature this act, it is said.

Guy Wheeler will present an act that is different, featuring a trick pianologue and several songs that are new.

Corine and Olive are a duo of child artists, and mong the cleverest on the stage. Novelty singing and dancing will make up their program.

Marion Mahr is a coon shouter with an original line of chatter which will keep the laughter flowing.

Thornton and Berkley have a rube act, of which comedy singing is the feature.

The film attraction will be the "Princess Jones," with Alice Calhoun as the star. Alice is Vitagraph's newest star and she has started her career with a gem of priceless value. "Princess Jones" is a play that charmingly suits the star.

DESIRE SOMETHING BETTER?

Be glad if you have this desire, for it promotes progress and produces the good things of life that make your world more glorious to live in. For when we no longer desire, we're practically at a standstill.

Do you want to look well? To be admired? Don't just desire new clothes—have them. For with the knowledge that you look well come new thrills, new enjoyment, and new happiness. And you need not have money to accomplish this. Go to Cherry's—the store for women is at 515 13th street; the men's store, 528 13th street—and buy on credit—all the clothes you need. You can pay monthly and, no matter how numerous or how attractive the htings are it won't take many months to pay up.—Advertisement.

Medicinal Beer For the Sick Will Be Manufactured

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today gave a new ray of hope for medicinal beer. He said he favored making beer available for the sick, regardless of what Congress does with the Volstead bill to outlaw malt liquors.

Reversal of the former policy of the treasury to withhold regulations for the manufacture and sale of beer on doctors' prescriptions was practically decided upon by Mellon.

Informed that the Volstead amendment forbidding beer, may not be acted upon finally for six weeks or two months, Mellon conferred with his advisers and the conclusion was reached that, irrespective of what Congress does there should be no further delay in making the Department of Justice ruling operative.

This decision overruled prohibition and revenue bureau chiefs who urged delay.

Prohibition chiefs said today that as soon as Melon directs issuance of beer regulations they will be made effective quickly. In fact, mechanical details of putting the beer rules into effect have been worked out by Commissioner Kramer, but were held in abeyance pending further orders from the treasury.

Loses Memory 4 Years and Then Finds Fortune

WHEELING, W. Va., May 21.—That he has a fortune of between $250,000 and a half million dolars and a wife and children at Houston, Tex., was the startling information received by J. W. Counts, auhas a victim held in the local jail by the authorities.

It's all news to him, Counts declares, who has been missing from home four years and was given up as dead until his brother-in-law, James W. Gilesple, a Texas oil man, encountered him on the street yesterday, induced him to accompany him to the police station and there had him detained.

Efforts to refresh Counts' memory have been futile, he remembering nothing further back than the 1919 world series at Chicago. When found here he was working as an orderly in a local hospital. Counts complains constantly of neuralgic pains in his head.

It is likely arrangements will be made to take him back to Texas in the hope that once familiar sights and scenes will restore his mind to normal.

Citizens in Protest On County Inn

The stranger answered in the negative. "All right," said the Richmond man, "go in that house, and go damn quickly, and tell this lit tle girl's father and mother, o whoever may be her escorts, that I will give them just three minutes to get out here and take this child home—otherwise, I'll telephone the police, and have the whole bunch arrested."

In less than three minutes, a man and woman emerged from the house, got in the car and drove away towards Martinez.

Operate Behind Closed Curtains

This man says that the people running the joint keep the curtains drawn and hte doors barred, and that an Act of Congress is needed for an unaccompanied man to enter, but if a woman is on his arm the doors swing open with alacrity, and the hidden maw of the alleged brothel swallow them up.

The charge is made that almost every night great numbers of men and women congregate in th place and indulge in lewd nad revolting practices that would shock the civic convenience of California almost as it was stirred by the revelations of the Howard street gang's practices.

Vigilantes May Take Hand.

Residents of the community are now stating that if the place persists in what they regard as foul and indefensible pursuits, they will take the law in their owa hands; that they will form a Vigilantes Committee, or a Ku Klux Klan, and stamp the place out.

The Country Inn formerly was run before the historical July 31, 1919, as a licensed saloon and road house. It then had the reputation of being awfully conducted.

The place now is under a different management, but diligent and persistent inquiries fail to disclose to the Record-Herald the identity of the present owners or management.

CHAUTAUQUA IS BIGGEST EVER HERE

The best Chantauqua program ever presented to the people of the Pacific coast comes to Richmond for the seven days beginning May 25.

In the various cities and towns in Louisiana, Texas, Arizona and Lowe, California, where the program has already been before the public it aroused great enthusiasm and created no end of favorable comment.

Cities like Miami and Globe, Arizona, where the mines are closed and unemployment is general, and industrial discontent is widespread, were particularly appreciative of the wholesome stimulating effect of the Chautauqua program.

Many employers and labor leaders were strong in their declarations that Tom Skeyhills' lecture on Russia in particular had helped materially to bring about a realization that local condtions were far from bad when compared with the starvation, ruin, and chaos that has come to Russia.

After hearing Sveyhill's masterly and eloquent exposition of the Russian problem no one has any desire to imitate the "Reds."

Stefanssen's lecture on the Arctic is also causing much favorable comment. His story of the frozen north told only as it can be told by a man who has risked his life to conquer its dangers has an interest that grips and thrills.

It is interesting to note in this connection that ceremonies are soon to be held in London at which the King of England will present to an official representing Stefanssen and a gold medal commemorative of Stefanssen's achievements an an Arctic explorer. And it is planned to make this event of great interest to the people of California by having the Governor of California conduct ceremonies in Sacramento at the same time that the King's presentation is taking place in London, thus bringing Stefenssen into actual contact by proxy.

Peter Clark McFarlane, of newspaper and magazine fame, also contributes to the success of this Chautauqua program in his eloquent address entitled "Us Americans." McFarlane is an orator as well as a writer and his address is invariably received with great applause.

The dramatized sermon, "The Servant in the House," is also impressing the people with its powerful moral lesson, while the musical numbers presented by the Orpheus Quartette. The Sam Lewis concert company and the Little Symphony Orchestra delight all lovers of good music. The Orpheus Quartette is that same splendid organization that won the gold medal at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. It is conceded to be the foremost quartette in the country.

Arrangements have been made by Director "Bill" Harrington to arrange the program for Sunday evening, May 30th, so that there will be no conflict with church or memorial services. The community singing feature, lead by Lieut. Walter Jenkins, will be held in the Christian church, beginning at 7:30, instead of in the Chautauqua tent, thus avoiding any interference with the memorial service to be held in the Methodist church nearby. At the conclusion of the singing in the Christian church the audience will adjourn to the Chautauqua tent where the dramatized sermon, "The Servant in the House," will be presented, commencing at 8:30 p. m.

Rare Menu Served to D. O. K. K.

Fifteen machine loads of votaries of the D. O. K. K., of Richmond motored to Napa yesterday, leaving here about noon, for the ceremonial which took place there last night.

Fifty novices were chased, bleeding and breathless, through thicket and vale, down hill and up, across plain and everglade to the Promised Land of all good Dokeys.

The punishment of the helpless creatures continued to the hours when most honest folk long had been abed, and at the wind-up an who had been faithless or who had fallen by the wayside, were denied the right or privilege to sit in a the banquet table, where a fanciful menu was served.

Austrian Bank Notes Being Used As Wall Paper

Geneva, May 3.—Papering the walls with Austrian bank notes proved such a good advertisement for a St. Gall restaurant that other innkeepers have taken up the idea. They have found that the cost is little more than that of good wall paper.

A Geneva firm recently began pinning Austrian notes of from 10 to 1000 crown on each woman's garment sold, according to the amount of the purchase.

Memory of Bishop Taylor to Be Honored by Methodists

Today at Mountain View cemetery in Oakland reverence to the memory of a man who carried the message of Methodism to the far parts of the world—Bishop William Taylor—will be fittingly paid when many leading bishops and laymen of the church are to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of his birth.

The exercises are to be held under the auspices of the William Taylor Memorial Association of San Francisco, a permanent organization.

Bishop Adna Wright Leonard of San Francisco will preside at the exercises, which will begin at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Bishop John W. Hamilton, chancellor of the American University at Washington, will deliver the invocation. This will be followed by musical numbers and the address of the occasion by Bishop Homer C. Stuntz of Omaha, former bishop of South America.

E. K. Taylor of Alameda, a son of the famous preacher-leader, will formally present the Taylor memorial plot to the Methodist church at large. Bishop Leonard speaking in acceptance.

Among the bishops who will have part in the program will be Bishop Joseph C. Hartzell, who succeeded Bishop Taylor in the African field, serving for twenty years; Bishop Edwin Holt Hughes, formerly of San Francisco and now of Boston; Bishop Thomas C. Neely of Philadelphia and Bishop Ernest L. Waldorf.

Methodism from all sections of the world will be represented in the presentation of floral wreaths. An enormous cross will be erected over the rough-hewn stone marking the plot, which will be literally covered with these tributes. Bishop Hughes will introduce special delegates from church boards and state societies; the Society of California Pioneers by David S. Levy of San Francisco, a member of Company 6 of the Vigilantes of '51; Native Sons, by Joseph R. Knowland, past grand president; Native Daughters, by Dr. Victory A. Derrick; churches founded by Bishop Taylor. Rev. E. R. Dille of Oakland, representatives from foreign lands in which Dr. Taylor labored by Rev. W. S. Matthew of San Mateo. Rev. Paul Little of the Wesley church will attend the ceremonies.

Outdoor Services

Yesterday afternoon under a towering eucalyptus trees planted fifty years ago at the corner of Central avenue and Park avenue, Alameda, by Mrs. William Taylor, wife of the late bishop, special honors were accorded by an appropriate program participated in by the visiting bishops and others.

Bishop Taylor when in Australia sent the first seeds of the eucalyptus tree to reach this country to Mrs. Taylor in Alameda. She planted them in her own greenhouse later trans-planting them along the streets of the city. These trees were the first of their specie ever grown in the western hemisphere.

Later in the afternoon a reception to the visiting bishops was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Taylor in Alameda.

Bank Claims the Retailers Opposed To Readjustment

Stubborn resistance on the part of retail merchants to lower their prices to meet decline in the markets generally is the greatest obstacle in the process of readjustment of business, according to the monthly business summary of the Oakland Bank of Savings issued yesterday.

The letter says the prices of raw materials, particularly farm products, have dropped 50 per cent, but the goods the farmer has to buy have drooped only a fraction of this percentage. The letter continues:

"A material reduction in the volume of California's crops this year is indicated by the reports from various parts of the state. The season's rainfall in the northern half of the state was well above normal, and grain and hay crops are reported good for that section, with abundant feed in the hills and meadows for grazing stock. The southern half of the state experienced another year of deficient rainfall and a resultant poor showing in unirrigated field crops is expected.

"The most vital problem with which the fruit and vegetable growers now have to contend is that presented by the freight rates prevailing upon shipments of the products to eastern markets. As the present rates did not go into effect last year until after the greater part of the vegetable and deciduous fruit shipments had been sent East, the full import of these rates to our growers was not disclosed until the citrus fruits and the early vegetables began moving this year, and the shippers were awakened to the fact that the increased rates had reduced their profits to a vanishing point.

THROAT TROUBLE CURED

Oakland, Nov. 1, 1920. To whom it May Concern:
I suffered from throat trouble for 15 years, during which time I could neither eat nor swallow without pain. I became very weak and was unable to work for months. I had numerous doctors and then tried a Throat specialist, who told me that my trouble was due to the blood. He advised me to take blood medicine. Thereupon my brother, who had been cured of Stomach Trouble by the FONG WAN HERBS, urged me to try them. After drinking the herbs for 15 weeks, I felt entirely well. I have since gained 25pounds. It is 10 months since I took the herbs, and I am now giving this testimonial to let the public know that any sufferer should try the FONG WAN HERBS. I am a watchman for the California Food Specialties Co.

Volatile Music and French Ballet For Women's Club

A first appearance of pupils of the Aline Eracle Studio of Dancing will occur on the stage of the attractive building of the Woman's Club of Richmond, Monday afternoon, May 23, before a meeting of the Womens' Club and invited guests. The program has been arranged for by rMs. Billie Brown, who is chairman of the day.

Mademoiselle Eracle is a newcomer in California direct from Paris where she was one of the gay city's favorite young dancers, known as "Nady," originally a pet pupil of the famous balletmaster Staats, of the Paris opera. Her pupils on the Coast number some already well known semi-professional devotees, among whom are Miss Laverne, Mrs. Rita Lenner, Miss Caroline Gilman, Miss Dora Edith McDearnon and others.

In her work of teaching, Madamoiselle Eracle has the advantage which accrues from a technique acquired at the fountain head of all dancing, the French ballet school, and aditional years of training in pure acrobacy.

The program to be rendered is as follows:

1—Petit Chant Francais "Il etait Begere," Providence Donohue.

2—Parasol dance by Marie Streehl.

3—"Les Petis Sabots" dance and song by Florence Donahue.

4—"Danse Grec," by Helen Foubert, Arlene Maillaux, Marie Streehl.

5—"Chopin Prelude" by Dorothy Edith McDearnon.

6—"Danse Ecossaise" by Gayle Martin.

7—"Pizzicatti" by Helen Foubert, Arlene Maillaux and Marie Streehle.

8—Tambourine dance by Carol Bowne.

9—Cherrytime by Gayle Martin and Dorothy Webster.

10—"Danse Indu" by Miss Hurst.

11—Valse Pathrtique by Carol Bowne.

12—"Little Lovers in Old Spain" by Fidelina Duport and Barbara Barnes.

13"Prayer and Despair" by Dorothy Edith McDearnon.

14—"Une Rose" by Miss Laverne.

15—"Ballet Blanc" by Barbara Barnes, Fidelina Dupont, Gayle Martin, Dorothy Webster.

Four of these young dancers will appear the evening of Tuesday May 24th at a soiree of the Overseas club of Berkeley at their club house at 2025 Durant avenue.

Mlle. Eracle who appears on the program to be given at the meeting of the Richmond club tomorrow.

The program for the entertainment of the Richmond Women's Club matinee, will include—as well as the following dances—two song by Madamoiselle Eracle, whose voice, a rich mezzo-soprano, is the product of Madam Mackay-Cantell's vocal studio. Madamoiselle Eracle has several interesting projects afoot for programs for the coming year, among these, an arrangemen of the menuet from Manon, with which will be sung "Le Reve de Des Grieux" by a talented young tenor of Richmond, also of the Mackay-Cantell studios.

ROASTS FOR SUNDAY MEALS IN RICHMOND ARE CHEAPER

Yesterday meat prices took a tumble in all of the east bay cities. The reduction was marked and the housewife in getting the meat for her Sunday dinner was much surprised at the large amount she received.

Bread is said to follow meat, and some bakeries that have been selling for ten cents now offer the same loaf or eight.

Whether there is to be any reduction in milk is not yet known.

This is the significant situation today following the movement inaugurated two weeks ago by the State Housewives' League, in which it was held that milk, meat and bakery goods are sold locally at an exorbitant price in comparison with wholesale quotations.

While the bread price reduction is not general and so far has not extended into bakery goods, the women have hope that the meat reductions will be followed immediately by a lowering of prices on these living requirements.

Used Cars

Selling used cars with us is incidental to the sale of new Dodge Brothers cars and not for profit.

But we have a real interest in every car sold, for we haven't discovered any better way to secure new customers than by giving efficient service to those we have.

It will be a pleasure to tell you about the cars we have traded in for new ones, and a demonstration will be cheerfully made at your convenience upon request.

Engagement Is Announced at Betrothal Party

Announcement of the betrothal of Miss Victoria Toffoli and Elmer N. Leggett was made at a happy party Friday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Toffoli, in Fourteenth street.

Hymen's symbol was manifested in the shape of a large heart shaped basket suspended from the ceiling and placed in the center of the table. From this basket led red ribbon streamers to the place of each guest and when the strings were pulled the formal announcement appeared on dainty cards.

Red was the dominant hue of the house decoration, red carnations and red sweet peas being employed to accomplish the motif.

The bride is a popular member the younger set of Richmond, as is her fiancee. He is the son of Mrs. B. O. Carroll and of the late Henry B. Leggett. He is with the Standard Oil Company.

The following were present: Mrs. W. F. Wilson, Miss Mabel Pratt, Mrs. E. ZZiem, Mrs. R. C. Scott, Miss Neca Toffoli, Miss Nell Mason, Mrs. Vera A. Glasby, Miss Sheila Murphy, Mrs. Violet C. Morken, Miss Velma Wilson, Miss Evelyn Smith, Mrs. L. Toffoli, Miss Erna Berndt of San Francisco, Miss Violet Chandler of San Francisco, Miss Helen Kelley of Oakland, and Miss Victoria Toffoli.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

The many friends in this city will be glad to learn that Mrs. Irma St. John who is at the Alta Bates hospital in Berkeley, is recovering nicely from her illness.

Young Couple Wed And Keep Ceremony Secret Two Days

Friends in Richmond of the young couple will be interested to learn of the marriage at St. Mark's church Wednesday evening of Frank Smith and Miss Louise Kukar. The ceremony was quietly performed, and the fact kept a secret until Friday. R. Kukar and Miss S. Schiltz were the attendants.

The bride formerly was with the Marathon Candy kitchen, and the bridegroom is employed by the Standard Oil Company.

Booze Venders Must Lay Low Here Says Chief of Police

Nothwithstanding the fact that most of the prohibition enforcement deputies in this district have been taken off till July 1st on account of a shortage of funds with the national treasury, it does not mean that the bootleggers will have an open sesame for the next two months.

Chief of Police W. H. Woods has the remedy in his hand to do away with bootlegging as much as possible, through the little Volstead ordinance that was recently passed by the city council.

The chief states that he has instructed his men to keep a sharp lookout for offenders against the dry laws, and to make arrests in every instance.

While it is acknowledged there is some illegal selling of liquor going on in Richmond, Arthur H. Briggs, the head of the dry forces in the state, when in this city a few nights ago, stated that the dry law was being better enforced in Richmond than in most of the cities of California.

City Council May Hear Plans Monday On S. P. Subway

The city council tomorrow night may have up for consideration the matter of the widening of the subway under the tracks of the Southern Pacific in Macdonald avenue.

City Engineer Chapman has perfected the plans, and they will be submitted to the city council as soon as title to one or two parcels of land involved may be cleared up.

Approximately twenty-five thousand dillars will be spent by the city in the widening and improvement project: of this amount, $9,000 was spent in acquiring property.

Other features of the project are the laying of double tracks by the street railway company and the installation of a tunnel for pedestrians by the Southern Pacific.

Starting Monday at the two stores of Lou W. Schroeder hardware company at Sixth and Macdonald and Twelfth and Macdonald there will be a demonstration of the Florence oil cook stoves, and the Fairy steam cooker.

There were many visitors from Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco. Work by the degree team, and a program enhanced by the dancing of Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Woods, featured the evening. A fine banquet was served.
